DR. JAMES NAISMITH

of the A. A. U. National Basketball Tournament held in Denver. It was a homecoming for Dr. Naismith, as he coached the first championship team in the Rockies at the Denver Y. M. C. A. in 1897. He passed away in 1939, but to him must go the honor of inventing a game of strictly American origin that is played all over the world.

1891-1941 "GOLDEN JUBILEE OF BASKETBALL"

Fifty years ago, at Springfield College in Springfield, Mass., Dr. James Naismith posted on the bulletin board in the old gymnasium the rules for his newly invented game—basketball. Although the rules were first written and posted before the Christmas holidays in 1891, the first real game was not played until after the students returned to school in January, 1892. Dr. Naismith tacked up peach baskets to the gymnasium railing and the members of his class used a soccer ball to play the first game.

Today more than 18,000,000 men and women, boys and girls play the game, and 100,000,000 pay every year to see it played. From the standpoint of attendance and participation, basketball has become the most popular sport in the United States. Dr. Naismith lived to see the game he invented adopted in nearly every country in the world. He attended the Olympic games in 1936, where his game was played for the first time in international competition. The United States team won the Olympic Games Basketball Championship, with Dr. Naismith, the inventor of the game, in attendance. What a thrill he must have experienced to see the players from his own United States win the Olympic Games title.

In 1936, Dr. Naismith was the honored guest

The excitement of a clean, hard fought basketball game is no more fun than the pleasure of a fast starting, smooth performing automobile on a cold wintry day. You can enjoy this pleasure by filling your tank with higher test Phillips 66 gasoline. That Phillips 66 is higher test than the average priced motor fuels has been proved by scientific laboratory tests, but you can prove it yourself by trying a test tankful in your car. And the test won't cost you a cent, because you can buy Phillips 66 at the price of regular gasolines. Stop at the nearest orange and black shield and try a tankful.

You'll find it in LAST-BILT

Wherever the game's finest teams meet in the biggest tournaments it is only natural that you'll find the finest basketball in play. It's LAST-BILT. Watch LAST-BILT in play during every game of this tournament—watch its unerring accuracy on every shot as it responds with unfailing fidelity to the players' action in bounce and flight. LAST-BILT is the perfect basketball, precisely built over a last, without seams to wear out and without laces. Official in every respect it is equipped with two valves and lasts longer than any basketball ever built. It is truly the "Perfect Sphere for Many a Year." Available in either white or standard tan.

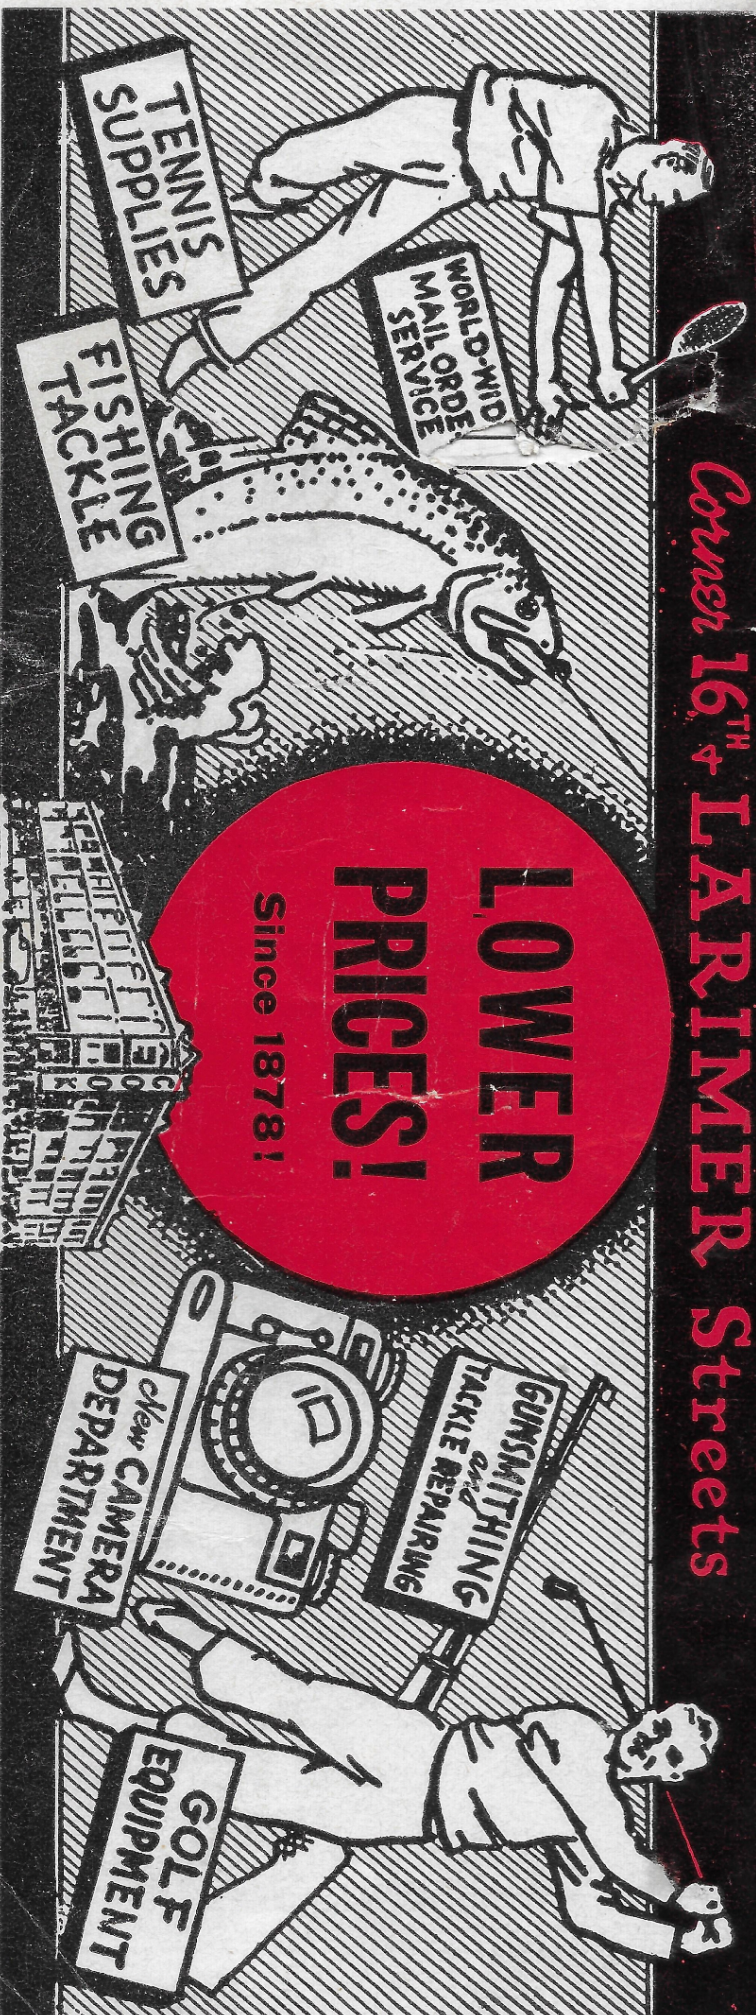

It's not a Last-Bilt without this trademark
